ABSTRACT

This guide identifies reference sources for the study of Russian and Soviet history available in the McGill University (Montreal) McLennan Library. Russian, English, French, and German language works covering Russian history from its origins to World War II are included. The guide is arranged in two parts: general reference sources and bibliography. Specialized subject bibliographies are listed together. Each entry includes title, author, imprint, local call number, and a short annotation. (JB)

This guide identifies reference sources for the study of Russian and Soviet history available in the McGill University libraries. Included are Russian, English, French and German language works covering Russian history from its origins to World War II. The guide is arranged in two parts: general reference sources and bibliography. Specialized subject bibliographies are listed together; however, it is useful to remember that most general bibliographies have chapters devoted to special subjects as well. Additional materials can be found by checking the subject catalogues under RUSSIA-HISTORY and SOVIET UNION-HISTORY and under the names of individuals, such as PETER I, names of battles, movements and other related headings.

Ref AE55 B64 Lib. has: 1957-

Great Soviet Encyclopedia. New York, MacMillan, 1973 - 1982. 31v. and 1 v. index.

Ref AE5 B8

The 2nd edition is the most comprehensive of these encyclopedias, Soviet oriented in approach, international in scope. Articles are not signed but are accompanied by bibliographies. It is distinguished by its excellent cartography and illustrative material. The 3rd edition, which was published concurrently in English, is more limited in coverage but more up to date. It's index in one volume is limited to names only, as opposed to the detailed name/subject index of the 2nd edition. The annual supplement (Ezhegodnik) provides a record of events of the year, world-wide, organized by country. These have detailed tables of contents but no indexes.

Grazhdanskaia voina i voennaia interventsia v SSSR. entsiklopediia. Moscow, "Sovetskaia entsiklopediia," 1987.

Ref DK265.4 G7 1987

A continuation of Velikaia oktiabr'skaia sotsialisticheskaia revoliutsiia: entsiklopediia, this volume covers the period 1918 - 1920.

Modern Encyclopedia of Russian and Soviet History. Gulf Breeze, Florida, Academic International Press, 1976- .

Ref DK14 M6

This set brings together much information contained in other reference works. Many of the Soviet contributions are drawn from major reference works such as Bol'shaia sovetskaia entsiklopediia, Sovetskaia istoricheskaia entsiklopedia and the Russkii biograficheskii slovar' (CT1203 .R7 Ref). Additional entries are written by contemporary scholars, primarily American, and these are lengthy, signed and include Russian and English bibliographical references. Beginning with volume 46, supplementary articles for topics beginning with letter "A-" recommence.

Pushkarev, Sergei G. Dictionary of Russian Historical Terms from the Eleventh Century to 1917. New Haven, Yale University Press, 1970.

Ref DK36 P78 1970

Gives definitions and brief historical background of Russian terms frequently used in the study of Russian history and economics. As standard dictionary translations of these terms are usually inadequate, this work is useful for the non-Russian reader; many English language works do not translate historical terms which refer to aspects of Russian social, political and military organization.

Velikaia oktiabr'skaia sotsialisticheskaja revoliutsiia: entsiklopediia. Moscow, Sovietskaiia entsiklopediia, 1987.

Ref DK265 A15V4 1987

Deals with all aspects of the October Revolution: major intellectual movements, events, and personalities. Useful for identifying the administrative organs which sprang up during this period, e.g. the various Soviets, and the many laws and regulations passed at the time. Most of the entries on individual personalities are accompanied by photographs, and the volume is copiously illustrated throughout. An appendix following the main sequence lists place name changes which were made during the revolution. Includes indexes.

Velikaia otechestvennaia voina 1941 - 1945. Entsiklopediia. Moscow, "Sovetskaia entsiklopediia," 1985.

Ref D764 V4 1985

Covers all aspects of Soviet society especially government during the second world war. Includes entries for persons, battles, operations, organizations, places etc. Maps and illustrations of uniforms, medals, equipment etc. No index.

Paxton, John. Companion to Russian History. New York, Facts on File Publications, 1983.

Ref DK36 P39 1983

A basic dictionary of people, places and facts concerning the history of Russia. Short entries. Includes a chronology to 1983 and some black and white maps.

Grant, Steven A. Scholars' Guide to Washington, D.C. For Russian/Soviet Studies: the Baltic States, Byelorussia, Central Asia, Moldavia, Russia, Transcaucasia, the Ukraine. 2nd ed. rev. Washington, D.C., Smithsonian Institution Press, 1983.

Ref DK17 G7 1983

A practical guide to resources in the Washington area for researchers in Russian/Soviet Studies. The guide is divided into two sections: research collections and organizations. Informative descriptions and basic information such as addresses, telephone numbers and hours of service are provided in both sections. Appendices include a list of US-USSR bilateral agreements, Washington area meetings, bookstores and miscellaneous services such as housing etc. Indexes by name of institution and organization, library subject strength, subject and personal papers.

Schopflin, George, ed. The Soviet Union and Eastern Europe: a Handbook. New York, Facts on File, 1986.

Ref DK17 S64 1986

Provides solid background information on the history, politics, economics, sociology and culture of the area. Chapters are written by scholars in the field and conclude with concise bibliographies of basic works. Subject index.

I. C. Biographical Sources

For other works containing biographical information consult Section I.A. Encyclopedias.

Deiateli revoliutsionnogo dvizheniia v Rossii: bio-bibliograficheskii slovar, ot predshestvennikov dekabristov do padeniia tsarisma. [Reprint of the Moscow, 1927-1934 edition.] Leipzig, Zentralantiquariat der Deutschen Demokratischen Republik, 1974.

Ref DK188.3 D45

A biographical dictionary of the famous and less famous involved in Russian revolutionary movements from the end of the 18th century to 1904 (originally intended to cover to 1917). Entries are lengthy and many include photographs and short bibliographies. Volume 1 covers 1800-1850; volume 2 covers the 1870's; volume 3 (erroneously marked volume 4) deals with the 1880's and is complete only to the cyrillic letter Z. Volume 4 was never published and volume 5, covering 1880-1904 deals with the Social Democrats up to the cyrillic letter B. Even though it is incomplete the dictionary contains a wealth of information on many lesser known figures.

Institut zur Erforschung der UdSSR. The Soviet Diplomatic Corps, 1917-1967. Metuchen, N. J., Scarecrow Press, 1970.

Ref JX1807 A2 1970

Biographical sketches of members of the Soviet diplomatic corps, 1917-1967. Includes a list of the departments within the corps and the officials who held the major positions during this period. A chronology of the "Most Noteworthy Diplomatic Acts and Events" appears at the end. See also the companion volume Party and Government Officials of the Soviet Union 1917-1967 (JN6598 .K7154 Ref).

Kaufman, Isaak Mikhailovich. Russkie biograficheskie i bio-bibliograficheskie slovari. Moscow, Gos. izdatelstvo prosvetitel'noi literatury, 1955.

Ref Z5305 R9K32

A comprehensive bibliography of Russian biographical and bio-bibliographical dictionaries published from the 18th century to the 1950's providing information on individuals active in the arts and sciences. References are to books and biographical essays published in periodicals and collections. Arrangement is by subject and profession with geographic subdivisions. Name and title indexes.

Lazitch, Branko. Biographical Dictionary of the Comintern. Stanford, Hoover Institution Press, 1986.

Ref HX23 L35 1986

Biographical sketches of individuals active in the Comintern under Lenin. In addition, the dictionary lists membership and describes international organizations connected with the Comintern and includes a dictionary of pseudonyms used by Comintern members. It is worth noting that much of the information contained here was drawn from the numerous biographical entries in Lenin's Polnoe sobranie sochinenie, 5th ed., (DK254 .L3A23216 McLen).

Russkii biograficheskii slovar'. [Reprint of the St. Petersburg, 1896-1918 edition.] New York, Kraus Reprint Corp., 1962. 27v.

Ref CT1203 R7

Articles are lengthy and signed, some with bibliographies. The dictionary is especially useful for biographies of the upper and ecclesiastical classes of pre-revolutionary Russia. The work was discontinued and names beginning with the following letters were never covered: V, Gog-Gia, E, M, Nik-Nia, Tk-Tia, U.

Biographic Directory of the USSR. New York, Scarecrow Press, 1958.

Ref DK275 A115 1958

This is the first of a series of biographical dictionaries published by the Institute for the Study of the USSR in Munich. Includes brief information on individuals prominent in intellectual, social, political and economic life. The companion volumes are entitled Who's Who in the USSR 1961/62, Who's Who in the USSR 1965/66, Prominent Personalities in the USSR (1968), and its update Portraits of Prominent USSR Personalities (1969-1971). All these volumes are shelved together in the Reference dept.

Ref CT1212 I57

Gives brief biographical information on persons who were active in the Russian and Soviet governments, political parties and in the professions and whose deaths occurred between 1917 and 1967. Includes biographies of several people who had been active against the Soviet regime. Contains index by career and profession. Entry is by name under which biographee was best known. No cross references from real name or any variants.

I. D. Historical Atlases

Adams, Arthur E. and Ian M. Matley and William O. McCagg. An Atlas of Russian and East European History. New York, Praeger, 1967.

UL G2111 S1A2

Collection of black and white maps covering the history of this region as well as the geographical and economic background. Includes index.

Chew, Allen F. An Atlas of Russian History: Eleven Centuries of Changing Borders. New Haven, Yale University Press, 1970.

UL G2111 S1C5 1970

Maps trace the changes in Russian boundaries and possessions from the 9th century to the post-World War II period. The maps illustrating the growth of Muscovy before 1462 are especially useful, as these are not frequently found in most works on Russian history. The annotations are not very informative and the atlas is aimed toward the general student rather than the specialist. Arrangement is chronological, with an appendix of name changes of selected cities and towns.

Gilbert, Martin. Russian History Atlas. London, Weidenfeld and Nicholson, 1972.

McLen G2111 S1G4x

The author presents in 146 maps a survey of Russian history from the earliest times to the present day. A more detailed work than that by Crew. Includes index by subject, place and event. The first two parts, covering up to 1917, were republished in 1978 under the title Imperial Russian History Atlas (G2111 .A1L495 McLen).

Kovalevsky, Pierre. Bildatlas der Kultur und Geschichte der Slawischen Welt. Munchen, BLV Verlagsgesellschaft, 1964.

Blackader Folio G2081 E6K64 1964

Historical and cultural atlas of Slavic civilization from 200 A.D. to the post-World War II period. Although the emphasis is on cultural history, the 16 coloured maps are well produced and each map accompanies a long chapter on cultural and general history. Author and place name index, with a bibliography of western language publications on pages 202-204.

Parker, William Henry. An Historical Geography of Russia. London, University of London Press, 1968.

McLen DK17 P3 1969

Parker analyzes the major historical phases in the territorial and cultural organization of the Russian state from the Stone Age to the situation of the USSR in 1960. The text is accompanied by over 100 black and white maps illustrating population distribution, agricultural and industrial patterns, commerce and trade.

This work has two principal functions: A) It is a bibliography of reference tools (books and articles) which aid researchers in finding information about Soviet archival materials and in locating specific inventories and documents. B) It is a guide to the contents of individual Soviet archives. The bibliographic section lists bibliographies of reference tools on archival material in various subjects. The archival section gives information on the archive's history, its policies and services, and lists its contents under topics and individual's papers. Bibliographies of works on the contents of specific archives are listed here as well. A subject index which includes names of individuals, institutions and collections provides access to the appropriate archive and to the reference aid pertaining to the subject. All bibliographies and reference aids listed here are available on Interlibrary loan through the Center for Research Libraries. A brief version of the bibliographic section is contained in Grimsted's Archives and Manuscripts Collections in the U.S.S.R.: Moscow and Leningrad: Finding Aids on Microfiche (CD1713 .G72 Ref.).
